Claims 1-22 are pending in this application.

Claims 1-15 provide for the "use of" selenium containing compounds, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Because a "use of" a compound is not a statutorily recognized class of invention, no further examination on the merits can be made on claims 1-15.

Claims 16-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

(1) Claims 16-22 are directed to a composition invention. The composition is set forth in terms of a daily dose. This is an improper method feature in a composition invention. A daily dose does not, and cannot, change the composition per se. A daily dose is practiced in the context of a method. Therefore, the claims are indefinite to the extent that they read on a composition with a daily dose feature.

Art Unit: 1616

(2) In claim 16, lines 3-4, features recited in terms of "i.e." is improper. Every feature must be positively set forth, not vaguely referenced in terms of "i.e."

(3) Even without the "i.e." problem, 2-80 mg selenium daily is not equivalent to 0.025 to 1 mg/kg.

(4) In claim 20, "those cited above" is improper claim language.

(5) In claim 21, a preferable feature should not be recited next to a non-preferred feature. A further dependent claim is suggested.

(6) In claim 21, "also subcutaneous or intramuscular" should be rephrased to avoid the use of "also."

(7) In claim 22, "in the form of a perfusion" is confusing. Does applicant mean the liquid that has been forced through the organ or tissue?

For these reasons no claim can be allowed at this time.
